

PETERSBURG.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—DEATH OF A RICHMOND LADY.—CHARGE WITH FALSE PRETENSES.—VISIT OF A FOREIGNER TO THE LYNCHBURG EXHIBITION AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—DEATH FROM PARALYSIS.—DEPARTURE OF DELEGATES.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

SEPTEMBER 21, 1877.
Mr. George R. Johnson, an old and highly respected citizen, died last night of cancer of the stomach. Deceased was a native of Massachusetts, but resided in Petersburg for nearly forty years. He leaves a family of five or six children.

Mrs. Alexine, wife of Mr. George T. Taylor, and daughter of Mr. James H. Taylor, of Richmond, died this morning at 10 o'clock of cancer of the stomach. Deceased was a native of Massachusetts, but resided in Petersburg for nearly forty years. She was married only about one year. Her funeral will take place from Dr. Gibson's church to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, at which the body will be conveyed to Richmond to be interred in Hollywood Cemetery. Her parents were with her at the time of her death.

Herbert Lewis Ward, a young Englishman, was this morning sent up to Norfolk County Jail for obtaining goods under false pretences. He has been under arrest several days awaiting a requisition. He walked down to Petersburg last week, and representing himself as unable to procure employment and as desirous to get back home, received pecuniary assistance from several of our citizens. It is stated that his father is a bank officer in England, and in good circumstances.

Appomattox Commandery, Knights Templar, of this city, will visit Lynchburg on the 9th of October, during the session of the Grand Commandery of the State in that city.

The Order of Knights of Honor, recently established in Petersburg, is meeting with much favor.

The total enrollment at the public schools at the close of the first week is 1,076, out of a school population of nearly or quite 7,500. Of this enrollment 590 are in the white and 486 in the colored schools. The High School has about 100 pupils.

General T. D. Sewell, of the Treasury Department, arrived in this city to-day, and is making an examination of the Collector's office.

William Slaughter, a notable musician and prominent colored man of this city, died this afternoon of apoplexy. He was the oldest colored Mason in the place, and a man respected for his good character. For a great number of years he was the leader of a cotton band, which was nearly always engaged for the entertainment of citizens on occasions of balls and parties. He was nearly sixty years of age. ROBIN ADAMS.

STAUNTON.

CANDIDATES.—CRAWFORD SPRINGS.—P. R. T. C. SCHOOLS.—DAY OF ATTORNEY.—DECISIONS OF THE COURT OF APPEALS, &c.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

SEPTEMBER 21, 1877.
This morning Hon. Marshall Hanger reported favorably the report of the committee on call on him to become a candidate for the House of Delegates. The call was signed by the largest and most influential list of Augusta County tax-payers that I have yet seen in print. Mr. Hanger is a straightforward, plain dealing man, and is well qualified to remain at home the next session, and had positively declined to be a candidate, but the pressure brought on him has been very great. He is a bold and honest public man, and will canvass the country frankly. Captain John H. Hanger, who reported favorably on call on him to become a candidate for the House. He is opposed to forcible adjustment, and favors the appointment of a commission by the Legislature to confer with the bondholders, and use all honorable, just, and legal means to effect an arrangement.

There is a numerous signed call published this morning asking Colonel James H. Skinner to become a candidate for the Senate. Major Absalom Koiner, formerly a member of the House, announces himself a candidate for the Senate. He is address to the people next Monday.

Our public schools opened this session with one hundred more scholars than reported on the first day of the session last year.

The religious services of our Israelite fellow-citizens connected with the Fast of the Atonement were conducted in their hall, on Augusta street, by Major Hart. Mr. N. Ezekiel, of Richmond, also delivered an address.

The American Hotel was sold yesterday afternoon to Colonel J. A. Nadenbough for $15,000.

Intelligence was received here this week of the death, in battle with the Indians, of Captain Cook, United States Army. It was six weeks ago that he was married in Columbus, Ga., to Miss Theresa Thom, formerly of Staunton.

There were six cases decided in the Court of Appeals yesterday, as follows: Crawford, guardian, vs. Shover, decision of lower court affirmed—Judge Christian delivering the opinion; Robinson vs. Shacklett, decree of the lower court reversed—Judge Christian delivering the opinion; Crockett vs. Linton, decree of the lower court affirmed—Judge Burks delivering the opinion; Sweeney vs. Harkrader, decree of the lower court reversed in part—Judge Christian delivering the opinion; Lamborn vs. Cooper's executors, decree of the lower court affirmed—Judge Staples delivering the opinion of the court. The case of Johnson vs. the National Exchange Bank of Richmond, has been submitted to the court.

PENNS.

CHARLOTTESVILLE.

CHARLOTTESVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOL.—NEW CURRICULUM.—PERSONAL.—RELIGIOUS.—ACCIDENT.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

SEPTEMBER 21, 1877.
The Charlottesville public school opened on Monday with about seventy-five scholars. This school differs from the State public schools in that it pursues a curriculum much higher—in fact, will operate as a preparatory school to the University. The Charlottesville City Council has appropriated $1,500, and a like amount from the Peabody fund, and some hundreds of dollars from the public-school fund, thus enabling it to offer tuition free to all residents of Charlottesville, and a nominal tuition from those outside who wish to enter. The Board of Education has elected Mr. Massie principal, Mr. A. C. Gordon first assistant, Mr. M. B. Almond second assistant.

The private schools are opening with good prospects.

The Delavan Baptist Church (colored) are going to build a new church. The contract was let to Mr. G. A. Sinclair for $600.63. Wallace Spooner, Esq., is the architect.

William C. Thurman, the prophet, is in this section distributing his tract, and preaching. His burden is the Turco-Russian war, and he assumes to make the explanation of Daniel's fall the occasion. In the millennium, he says (I learn) that Daniel was wrong in his statements, therefore he was wrong.

A series of meetings are being held in the Methodist church during this week. I have not learned that any special interest has been manifested.

Rev. W. H. Williams, of Tusculoo, Ala., the new pastor of the Baptist church, is expected early in October. Mr. Williams is spoken of as an able, earnest preacher, highly educated, and peculiarly fitted for the important position.

Yesterday, Dr. J. W. Hughes, a drayman, was attempting to cross the railroad at the depot, he was run into by a train which was coming in from the west, which killed his horse, broke his arm, and gave him a very narrow escape of his life. He escaped with some severe bruises.

The number of aquifers now in the woods exceeds anything before known. Every day parties from the town bag them by dozens, and yet the number seems not to diminish. The game making considerable inroads upon the woods, which to the mortification of the farmers, whose crops are exceedingly light in some sections.

The University will open on the 1st October with better prospects than for several years.

GLOUCESTER COUNTY.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

GLOUCESTER COURTHOUSE, VA., September 19, 1877.

The Conservative Convention met at this place to-day. There were full delegations from all the counties except New Kent, which was not represented. Mr. Bland, Esq., of Middlesex, was renominated by acclamation. J. N. Stubbs, Esq., as temporary chairman, and M. B. Seawell, Esq., as permanent chairman, presided with dignity. Mr. Bland accepted the nomination in a speech of eloquent and graceful address, frequently eliciting great applause. A copy of the proceedings of the Convention were directed to be sent to the Dispatch.

Judge Montague is holding the fall term of his court in Mathews. Several cases of considerable importance have been disposed of. His Honor refused a writ of superseas to the judgment of the County Court in an important oyster-dredging case. The parties, it seems, were caught in the act, and the case was argued before Judge Montague on the law.

SHIFFLET AND MORRIS.

A MAN OF MANY "STATEMENTS"—SHIFFLET'S FAMILY—MRS. LAWSON'S PROBABLE FATE—PREPARATIONS FOR THE EXECUTION.

[Special to the Richmond American.]

HARRISONBURG, VA., September 20.—Mrs. Anderson Shifflet, who, with her four children, are now in the cell with her husband, Shifflet, appears resigned to his fate, and passes his time in playing with his four children and attending his wife. Rev. Mr. Barr has his confession, which will be given to the public on Wednesday next. Shifflet is to be hanged by Rev. Mr. Barr in his cell next Sunday. The services will be performed privately.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

This morning that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

Shifflet has about wearied the patience of court officials, ministers, and newspaper men with his numerous "statements." This morning he made his seventh effort to it. He stated that Mrs. Lawson did not offer him any money, but did say he would be paid if he would do a certain thing. In reference to the rumor that money had been offered him since his conviction to make a confession implicating Sam. Hill, Shifflet said that he had no such offer.

A WASTED LIFE.

[W]ithin the Record of the Times, September 12. The death of Dr. Gillinham deserves more than a passing notice, both from his former high social position, his great abilities, and the later misfortunes of his life. He was formerly, in 1844-45, a practicing physician in Baltimore, having a lucrative profession, and moved in the best circles of society, having married a sister of Hon. Reverdy Johnson. His wife was possessed of a large fortune, but upon the occasion of her marriage it was so guarded by legal forms that the husband could not do a single thing thereto upon her death, which occurred some years since. Following his residence in Baltimore he came to Lebanon, in this State, where he practiced his profession for a time, and later still he removed to Philadelphia. During all these years he has gradually given himself to dissipation, and upon his appearance here, some two years since, he had ceased to practice medicine, and gained a precarious livelihood by teaching music—an art in which he was as proficient as in the practice of his profession. When the first arrived in Wilkesbarre his pride sustained him for a time, and he took up his residence at the Valley House; but he was obliged to seek other and more humble quarters, until he finally ended by occupying the small house in which he died. The death of this man, who has left a family of five children, is a sad example to the young men of this State, who have been seduced by the temptations of dissipation, and have thus wasted their lives. From papers found upon his body he appears to have relatives in Philadelphia, among these being Eliza B. Gillinham. He has a son also, a youth now attending some college in Virginia, who has a fortune awaiting him, and relatives who are wealthy and highly connected. He died from the effects of a hemorrhage, and the body is now in charge of the Poor Directors of this city. His last past was George Lewis, Isaiah Leach, and R. Dean have looked after his wants.

An artificial-ice company gave a public exhibition of their ice-machine at their factory, in New York, on Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance of prominent gentlemen, including a number of city officials. The manner of making the artificial ice was explained by the officers of the company, and practical results shown in the shape of large blocks of ice that could not be distinguished from the natural product. The factory is in operation for four months, and has a capacity of twenty-five tons per day, which is readily disposed of at from $1.50 to $2 per ton.

An accident occurred Thursday on the Connellsville branch of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to the train bound west. The axle of the tender broke as the train was passing the station, and the baggage-car, passenger-car, and sleeping-car were thrown from the track. No one was killed, but there were thirteen injured. Among them were Miss Wesserman, of Baltimore; Mary Isher Duran, an actress, and Conductor S. S. Drake, of Cumberland, Md.

VEGETINE.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD.

REINOVATES AND INVIGORATES THE WHOLE SYSTEM.

ITS MEDICINAL QUALITIES ARE ALTERNATIVE, TONIC, SOLVENT, AND DIURETIC.

FOR PAINS IN THE BACK, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, DROPSY, FEMALE WEAKNESS, LECORRHEA, arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases and GENERAL DEBILITY, VEGETINE acts directly upon the cause of the complaint. It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretory organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

FOR CATARRH, DYSPEPSIA, HABITUAL COSTIVENESS, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, HEADACHE, PILES, NERVOUSNESS, and GENERAL PROSTRATION OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM, no medicine has ever given such prompt and permanent relief as VEGETINE.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, pastor of Methodist Episcopal Church, Newark, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians, and those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this statement, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE:

NATICK, MASS., January 1, 1874.
Mr. H. R. Stevens:
Dear Sir:—We have good reason for regarding VEGETINE as the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so debilitated that he could not walk. He was unable to recover. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his recovery. It was the medicine of the greatest value we have as yet found. It has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age. For the last two years he has suffered from ulceration of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and